Movie Looted In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, (AP)—Three armed men held up the cashier of a motion picture theatre in downtown Jerusalem Wednesday and escaped with $800, touching off a flurry of military activity that whipped the city into intense excitement.

Shrilling sirens sent British armored cars racing through the streets, security barriers were closed, all traffic was halted and troops rushed to guard posts in strategic areas.

Police said the robbers were "three young Jews armed with revolvers."

An explosion heard all over Jerusalem occurred Wednesday night in the cordoned Mea Shearim Jewish quarter which is under martial law.

Sporadic gunfire was echoing all over the city.

After the trio fled the movie theatre, the cashier telephoned police, who gave orders to sound sirens usually used to halt traffic in the event of an outbreak of violence by the Jewish underground.

The Jerusalem high court meanwhile announced that it had rejected a plea for a writ of habeas corpus to prevent the deportation of 1378 unscrutinized Jewish immigrants who were being sent to a refugee camp off the Palestine coast last week.

In Haifa, the port from which unscrutinized Jewish immigrants have been deported to Cyprus, a bomb planted in an automobile parked across the street from the city law courts exploded in mid-afternoon Wednesday. Two private homes were slightly damaged.

Britain to Give U.N. Palestine Problem

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—Britain was reported reliably Wednesday to be prepared to toss the complicated Palestine case into the lap of the United Nations without further delay.

Authoritative sources said Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate to the U.N. security council, might even hand the case to Secretary-General Trygve Lie some time Wednesday.

"If not today," one high source said, "it certainly will be turned over to the United Nations within the next couple of days. The British want action."

The only thing holding up Britain from formally placing the Palestine case before the United Nations, this informant said, is a decision by Lie on how he thinks the case should be handled.

Lie was understood to be "feeling out" members of the Big Five on what method should be adopted.

Canada Seen Link Secret Arms Pact

MOSCOW, (Reuters)—The Communist party newspaper Pravda claimed Wednesday that the "unofficial military agreement" between Canada and the United States was in reality a hidden military agreement between Britain and the United States.

The Times of London was quoted as saying that Canada now was the connecting link between the United States and the British Empire.

"This means Britain herself is a participant in the aforementioned agreement," Pravda added.

"Does not this mean that the agreement is really an Anglo-American military agreement? Does not this hide a military union of the great powers?"

Atomic Research To Cost Millions

OTTAWA, (CP)—Atomic energy development is being undertaken by Canada on a multi-million dollar basis, it was indicated in the estimates tabled Tuesday in the commons.

The estimates show $5,375,000 directly allocated to the plant at Chalk River, Ont., where explorations in the peacetime applications of atomic fusion have been under way for some time.

Another $4,045,000 is being budgeted for the National Research Council, which is collaborating in the development of atomic energy in Canada. Since the council operated last year on only $1,500,000, it was expected some portion of the increase of $2,545,000 would be used in atomic research.

No details of the Chalk River project were given in the estimates. Under the atomic energy control board, however, an additional $150,000 for "research and investigations with respect to atomic energy" was listed.

Britain in Grip Of New Snowfall

LONDON, (CP)—Ice roads and a new snowfall left Britain's transport system in chaos Wednesday as the country struggled for normalcy after a three-week fuel crisis.

An 18-hour storm spread up to 15 inches of snow in southern England and the Midlands. Thousands of trains were slowed or stopped. Hundreds of trucks and automobiles were abandoned in snowdrifts or on ice-coated highways too treacherous for travel. Vital coal and produce supplies were held up.

Meanwhile 80 men, digging through drifts, reached one Midlands village that had been isolated more than a month by previous blizzards.

"Temperatures in northern Europe were around 22 degrees above zero. Ice jams threatened several vital bridges in western Germany."

Living Cost Index Fraction Higher

OTTAWA, (CP)—Canada's cost-of-living moved upward during January under pressure of higher prices for pork, tea, coffee and fresh vegetables.

The bureau of statistics Tuesday reported its cost-of-living index jumped to 127.8 Feb. 1 from 127.0 on Jan. 2.

Provinces to Levy Corporation Taxes

Announcement by Premier Garson in the Manitoba legislature Tuesday that that province will levy a five percent corporation income tax under the terms of the agreement with the dominion government is expected to be followed by similar action from Alberta and other provinces.

In government quarters, it is expected that details of the arrangement will be revealed when Premier Manning delivers his budget speech in the legislature this week.

Mr. Garson explained that in Manitoba the province will levy a five percent corporation income tax, "the proceeds of which will be collected by the dominion government on our behalf and applied in reduction of the payments due to us under the agreement."

As Alberta has made a tax agreement with Ottawa, it is anticipated that similar legislation will be introduced here.

In a sense, it will be merely a bookkeeping operation. While the province will impose the tax, the dominion will collect it and pay the proceeds to the province. Such payments will be deducted from the amount which the dominion is obligated to pay the province under the agreement.

For example, the proposed agreement provides Alberta will receive $14,840,000 from the dominion government this year. If the dominion collects $800,000 from the province corporation income tax, net sum paid by the dominion to Alberta would be $14,040,000.

Hon. J. L. Hiley, then minister of finance, speaking of the proposed agreement in the commons June 27, 1945, said "an agreeing province would undertake to levy a five percent tax on net corporate income, and in return the dominion would agree to pay the province a sum equal to the net corporate income tax less the amount of the province's contribution to the dominion's cost of the dominion."

The province also would agree to discontinue the special five percent tax when all provinces had made a tax agreement with the dominion.

King William's Town, South Africa, (CP)—Cape Province's natives, in colorful ceremonies, Tuesday acclaimed His Majesty the King as "Bozize"—a tribal name meaning "Father of the Nation"—as the royal tour of South Africa continued.

The sovereign accepted the honors in a full dress white naval uniform with a sash of the Order of the Garter and a ceremonial sword.

A vast gathering of 20,000 tribesmen from the surrounding district attended, with a choir of 1,000 native children singing a chorus of welcome specially written for the visit.

In return, the King took nine gifts to the native chiefs, including signed photographs of himself and the Queen and silver medals on crimson ribbons.

The King, Queen and princesses Elizabeth and Margaret stood on a flower-decked pavilion perched on a hilltop with an indication of the head.

Postpone Action Against Minister

HALIFAX, (CP)—Fifteen laymen and fellow-ministers Tuesday night found that Rev. Perry F. Rockwood had followed a "divisive course" in his sermon at St. James Presbyterian church, Truro, N.S., a charge that ordinarily would bring suspension from the church.

However, fate of the 29-year-old minister will not be announced until May 6 at the next regular meeting of the Halifax-Lunenburg presbytery. It would be one of three recommendations, officials said: admonition, suspension or excommunication.

Rev. Frank Lawson, moderator of the presbytery, who brought the charge, said: "Mr. Rockwood has conducted himself in a manner unbecoming a minister of the Christian church."

Far from elucidating the Bible he misinterprets it and he has consistently sought to break from his church and form a church of his own. He has made a definite attempt to split the Presbyterian church."

Punjab Governor Seizes Power

LAHORE, India, (AP)—Sir Evan Jenkins, British governor of the Punjab, took over the provincial government Wednesday night in an attempt to solve the crisis resulting from two days of communal rioting.

Sikhs and Hindus fought Moslems in the old walled section of the capital again Wednesday and the death toll mounted to at least 25. In addition, a government communication said, there had been "heavy casualties in two other towns."

The rioting broke out after the governor invited the Moslem League to form a ministry to succeed a coalition government made up of Congress party, Sikh and Unionist representatives, who resigned. The invitation to the Moslem League now lapses automatically.

It was a crisp moment of bright sunshine as his four-engine transport tucked up its under-carriage over the Potomac river and started on the long journey which will end in Moscow by George Catlett Marshall, secretary of state, in a symbolic gesture.

Bluntly he told reporters: "We recognize the negotiations at Moscow will be extremely difficult and their consequences momentous."

Equally bluntly he said he hoped the Big Four foreign ministers would succeed in writing a peace treaty for Austria but he thought it "extremely doubtful" that their primary goal of a treaty for Germany could be achieved.

Actually the conference to which he was flying was likely to turn into much more than a writing of peace treaties.

In the extreme it might become a showdown between Russian and United States power in the world.

Firemen from communities as far as 20 miles away finally brought the flames under control at the edge of the factory district.

The blaze started in an abandoned three-story wooden factory, spread rapidly to two adjoining plants and then to several houses nearby. Fifty workers fled to safety.

Marshall Leaves For Crucial Meet

WASHINGTON—A tall man with a tired seamed face and the look of a soldier in civilian clothes took off from Washington national airport Wednesday for an appointment with history.

It was a crisp moment of bright sunshine as his four-engine transport tucked up its under-carriage over the Potomac river and started on the long journey which will end in Moscow by George Catlett Marshall, secretary of state, in a symbolic gesture.

Bluntly he told reporters: "We recognize the negotiations at Moscow will be extremely difficult and their consequences momentous."

Equally bluntly he said he hoped the Big Four foreign ministers would succeed in writing a peace treaty for Austria but he thought it "extremely doubtful" that their primary goal of a treaty for Germany could be achieved.

Actually the conference to which he was flying was likely to turn into much more than a writing of peace treaties.

50 Workers Flee; 3 Factories Razed

The blaze started in an abandoned three-story wooden factory, spread rapidly to two adjoining plants and then to several houses nearby. Fifty workers fled to safety.

OTTAWA.—With the dominion's main estimates for the coming year slashed by 28 percent and a surplus piling up in the dominion treasury, it is a fair bet by no means sure bet that taxes as a whole will be cut during the year by something like 28 percent. The budget, giving details, is expected to be brought down in April.

But the individual taxpayer should not leap to the conclusion that his personal income tax will be down that much, since there are many ways of reducing the total tax burden on the country, such as removing or lightening taxes on soft drinks, cigarettes, tobacco and liquor. There is also the popular device of raising the exemption in personal income tax so as to favor particularly those in the lower income brackets.

Main estimates tabled by Finance Minister Abbot in the house Tuesday night showed a slash from $2,769,000,000 last year to $1,955,000,000 for the coming fiscal year. It is known that this year's estimates were heavily "kicked around" in an economy drive and came out just under the two billion dollar mark.

In the government's blue book, this year's main estimates are compared with last year's total estimates (which include both main and supplementary estimates introduced later) of $2,901,000,000, thus showing a reduction of $906,000,000 or practically one third. Dramatic as this looks on paper, it is illusory since supplementary estimates will be introduced later in the session. Last year additional "supplementaries" cost the country $202,000,000.

The big slash, of course, comes under those heads of the estimates tabled "demobilization and reconversion." These include particularly defence and reconstruction and supply outlays. In sum these are down from $1,089,000,000 (main and supplementary) to $691,000,000—that is a drop of just under a billion.

Cost of administering the prices board is to be cut in half, from $13,000,000 to $6,500,000. Commodity prices stabilization board goes down from $90,000,000 to $35,000,000—a round saving of $55,000,000.

Looking at the total picture, what does the Canadian taxpayer (and everybody is a taxpayer) see ahead? Interest on the public debt has gone up from $133,000,000 in 1939 to $465,000,000 for the year ahead that is, nearly quadrupled. So-called "uncontrollable items" to which the government is committed, now amount to $770,000,000, practically half the estimate total. And included in these "uncontrollables" along with debt charges and subsidies to the provinces, is about $200,000,000 for family allowances.

Good news was carried in the note that it will cost the country slightly less to carry the national debt next year than this year, roughly $10,000,000 less, chiefly because of conservation of debt to lower rates of interest.

All in all, therefore, prospect of tax cuts in the forthcoming budget are good. Attempt will be made to bring the budget down in April, perhaps as early as April 18, just after Easter recess. Tax cuts even likely to be made effective immediately, or by July 1, and not to be held over until next January.

Estimates for Armed Forces Slashed to Less Than Half

By Richard Sanburn

OTTAWA.—In an other department of government cut the economy axe bite so hard and so deep in this year's estimates as into Canada's armed services.

When Parliament bill deposters a while ago forecast a 50 percent slash in defence expenditures they were being too cautious. The cut has been considerably more than that, with the total for the three services shrinking from $501,345,000 last year to $239,741,000 in the new estimates.

In the coming year, the government will spend $43,000,000 less on the three services combined than it spent last year on the army alone.

Millions Lopped Off
In this act, history has repeated itself and tradition has been upheld. When the winds of economy begin to blow, the armed services are the first to feel the icy blast.

Millions were lopped off the services in all directions. A lot of it, of course, is because the peacetime army is so much smaller, but last year's estimates were brought down in peace year too.

Here are few examples of the slashing:
Civil salaries and wages, cut $4,415,000; pay and allowances, cut by $66,000,000; travel, transportation and freight, cut $28,400,000. Acquisition, construction, repair, maintenance and operation of properties cut $21,400,000.

Research Is Cut
Stores and equipment, bonus, ammunition, armament vehicles and parts, engineering equipment, construction, repair and upkeep of ships and planes, and general ordnance, cut $77,480,000.

Pie to run all aircraft, all ships, all army fighting and transport vehicles, cut by $7,980,000 or about 11 per cent.

When defence research felt the bite, with its estimated money requirement cut down by $1,400,000 to $13,031,834. Last year's figure was $14,435,835.

However, Canada still intends to spend a hefty sum on scientific study, defence research and atomic development, something like $23,418,726 altogether.

Australia Plans Income Tax Cut
CANBERRA, (CP)—Prime Minister Chifley will present to the Australian federal parliament income tax reduction proposals which would cost the commonwealth treasury an estimated $100,000,000 a year and bring the greatest relief to small wage earners who make up the bulk of taxpayers.

If ratified, the cuts will be a reduction of approximately 25 percent.

PLAN ARCTIC EXPLORATION
PARIS, (Reuters)—France will sponsor a series of scientific expeditions to the Arctic and Antarctic by the French explorer Paul Emile Victor, it was disclosed Tuesday.

Will Cost More To Collect Less

By H. E. Hardy

OTTAWA.—If the ever-hopeful taxpayer is right, the taxation division of the department of national revenue is going to collect less taxes in 1947-48 than it did in 1946-47.

But strangely enough, according to the department's estimates, tabled in the house on Tuesday, it is going to cost the taxation division about $2,778,000 more to operate than it did last year.

There is an estimated increase of $1,945,529 in the operation of clerical taxation offices and an estimated increase of $238,464 in general administration costs.

This might be taken to indicate that the income tax office is going to have a harder time of it, even in an effort to see that every cent of lawful taxes is garnered in.

Slash Ordered In Royal Navy

LONDON, (AP)—Britain will reduce the Royal Navy 60 percent this year.

The admiralty announced Wednesday, in its budget estimates for 1947-48, that the total number of naval officers, seamen, boys and Royal Marines would be reduced from the 1946-47 maximum of 492,500 to 192,000 during the 13 months beginning April 1.

The navy slash will bring an overall reduction of about 2,430 men in the British land, sea and air forces.

Comparative figures:
1946-47 1947-48
Army 2,950,000 1,910,000
Navy 482,500 192,000
Air Forces 780,000 270,000

U.S. to Help Canada Establish Nine Arctic Weather Stations

By Dick Sanburn

OTTAWA, (CP)—Canada has decided to establish nine weather stations in the Arctic within the next three years, and the United States will assist in this project, it was announced Tuesday in the commons by Reconstruction Minister Howe.

Mr. Howe said it was hoped that Canada would be able to exchange Arctic weather information with Soviet Russia after these new stations are set up. Such exchange of information had already taken place extensively.

The first two stations, which will be in operation this coming summer, are at Eureka Sound, on the northwest side of Ellesmere Island, approximately 600 miles from the North Pole, and at Winter Harbor, on Melville Island. Winter Harbor will be the main station.

Other Locations Studied
Location of the remaining seven stations now planned is still being studied.

The stations will be operated for a minimum of five years, to determine the value of such installations and the advisability of expanding Arctic weather observation posts.

"It is anticipated that these Arctic weather stations will provide our meteorologists with accurate information of insurable value to our national economy," said Mr. Howe.

Information obtainable in the Arctic, which has more influence on the Canadian climate than any other area, would be especially valuable.

They would also be able to determine the feasibility of air routes across the polar regions.

U.S. to Assist
The stations would be of great value to the U.S. as well as Canada. Mr. Howe said, and the United States therefore had undertaken to assist in setting them up and also in operating

Little crippled children will romp and play again

because of your Red Cross help

WITHOUT the help of the Red Cross, many little children whose parents cannot afford medical and surgical treatment, would have to go through life with crippled arms, feet, or other deformities.

With the help of the Red Cross, scores of little ones will romp and play again and grow up as healthy, normal men and women.

In some localities the Red Cross maintains its own hospitals for crippled children. In other localities it supports the splendid work being done by modern children's hospitals. This work must be continued, and expanded. It is directed by the Junior Red Cross.

Will you help restore these little crippled ones to normal health and strength?

Opposing Unions Endanger Power Conservation Plans

By Charles Nichols

LONDON.—The labor government's plan to spread out Britain's inadequate supply of electricity by working a large number of power-consuming industries at night was endangered Tuesday by a strong trade union opposition.

At the same time, the urgent necessity of spreading the power load was underscored as industries in southern England, shut down for three weeks to conserve low fuel stocks at the generating plants, resumed operation. Demand for power was so far above the capacity of regional generating plants that power was cut off for three-quarters of an hour in some districts Monday.

Following repeated warnings that there was not enough power to operate the nation's industries in a normal way and that some of the industrial consumption would have to be switched from peak-demand daylight hours to night time, employers and unions got together to work out plans for night shifts.

Few Reach Accord
In some cases agreements were reached, but when engineering and allied employers of the National Federation, representing one of the major industrial groups, affected by the spread-out, met powerful engineering unions they failed to reach an agreement.

The three-hour negotiations were held in camera, but the board issue of the dispute was well known.

Unions claim that if any of their members have to work at night they should receive time-and-a-half pay as provided in company-union agreements.

Employers Argue Case
Employers hold that famine is likely to last for two or three years and that as night shifts are as a result of the national emergency, they should not be liable to pay extra to night workers. They will not, in any case, have the usual benefits of night shift work; night shifts will simply make up for curbed production during the daylight hours when the power consumption is cut.

Employers further claim that additional pay would shoot up production costs to a point that would place their products at a disadvantage in the export market and tend to encourage inflation.

The government had hoped that night shifts could be worked out between employers and unions without its intervention. Now it appears inevitable that the government must help decide the issue: Is night work necessitated by the crisis of "normal" work, or is it undesirable work, for which employees are entitled to more shillings in their wage envelopes?

Three Men Charged In South Holdups

CALGARY, (CP)—Three men are being held by R.C.M.P. here on a warrant from the Lethbridge police charging them with an armed hold-up in Lethbridge Friday, and also in connection with another holdup at Blairmore the same day. The men were arrested in Calgary Saturday night.

The three, Leland Madison, 34; Neil Billingsley, 25, and Robert S. Graham, 23, were taken into custody in Calgary hotels.

Det. Ken McIver and Bruce McCannell, of the city police, arrested Billingsley while R.C.M.P. detectives Cpl. T. A. Horne and Constable W. P. G. Perry arrested the other two. Two loaded revolvers believed to have been used also were discovered.

The three men are charged with having held up a man and woman in Lethbridge, and with having stolen $30 from them. The case at Blairmore was a holdup of two women in their home by three persons who entered and took $80 at gun point.

Billingsley, Madison and Graham appeared before Magistrate Jensen in city police court Monday on charges of retaining stolen property and were remanded for eight days.

Billingsley is charged with retaining a stolen radio from Fred Martin of Duchess, Madison is charged with retaining a suit owned by G. M. Yeoman of Blackie and Graham with retaining a radio owned by the same man.

All three elected summary trial and pleaded not guilty.

Claim Arms Flown To Greek Guerillas

ATHENS, (Reuters)—Official Greek sources said Monday military authorities were in possession of reports indicating that had been parachuted to guerillas in northern Greece since the United Nations inquiry commission arrived in Greece one month ago.

The supplies came from Greece's northern neighbors, it was stated. Representatives of the United States, Britain, Russia, France, Poland, China and Australia made their first contact with the Greek guerillas Sunday when the United Nations field investigation team met the guerilla chieftain "Nestor."

Greek authorities claimed Monday a Bulgarian frontier post near the Greco-Bulgarian border fired on Greek soldiers patrolling the village of Petrolia, just inside the Greek frontier.

MANILA, (AP)—A treasure hunt—impeded by land mines—was under way Tuesday in the little northern Luzon mountain town of Cervantes, where the Tura division of General Yamashita's dihard Japanese corps made its last stand in April, 1945.

A correspondent for a Manila newspaper reported "prospectors" started digging over parks and private lands for Japanese loot after word spread that one can unearthed yielded $25,000 in gold, bullion, and that another container uncovered at the site of the burned Japanese garrison's quarters had $5,000 in Philippine currency.

One treasure hunter picked up an old Japanese land mine, which exploded and killed him, the correspondent said.

National Police

Senator G. G. McGeer, Mayor of Vancouver, says he will propose in the Senate that the policing of Vancouver and other major Canadian cities be taken over by the RCMP.

One can readily understand his point, in the light of the alleged police corruption and the wave of major crime recently revealed in the city of which he is chief magistrate. One can understand, too, that perhaps no other city in Canada needs such drastic police changes as Vancouver.

But since the police work of one city is involved with and dependent upon the police work in all other cities, criminals being notoriously an itinerant class, what Senator McGeer says of the need of Vancouver doubtless applies, in varying degrees, to all Canadian cities. In other words, police work in Vancouver cannot attain 100 per cent perfection until police work in other cities attains the same point of perfection.

In this respect, police problems are national problems. And the RCMP, being a national force, is probably the organization to cope with them.

When Mr. McGeer suggests the policing of the larger Canadian cities by the RCMP, the proposal does not necessarily imply any criticism of the personnel of civic police departments.

There are men in the civic police departments quite as capable and devoted as any in the RCMP. The superiority of the RCMP lies, not necessarily in its personnel, but in its system. And the RCMP system is more effective because it throws all the deductive and scientific facilities of a national organization into the solution of the most minor crime mystery.

If, for instance, the RCMP were asked to take over the policing of Edmonton, practically all the present Edmonton force would likely be absorbed into the RCMP. Thus, Edmonton would have all the capabilities of the present force plus the much wider resources of the RCMP.

Senator McGeer has put forth an interesting proposal. It is well worth consideration.

Where to Begin

The deputies of the Big Four foreign ministers have little to show for their six-week conference in London. They drafted a treaty with Austria, but it is highlighted with points on which they could reach no agreement. As for making a treaty with Germany, they did not even agree as to where or how to begin.

In effect, the chiefs, when they meet at Moscow, will have to start almost from scratch in the one case, and in the other will have to settle where to fix the starting line.

This dims the prospects of success at Moscow. If the deputies could not clear the ground in either case, nor even indicate the way of approach in one, the foreign ministers have gained little by preliminary talks among their aides.

This may be no cause for regret. So far as Austria is concerned a treaty on the basis of returning it to the pre-Hitler status would be much like "restoring" its people to conditions of misery and helplessness. Conditions so hopeless that they did not strike a blow to preserve their national independence. They were in fact willing to be annexed to Germany in order to escape starvation.

How to deal with Germany is a subject on which the United Nations have issued no directive and made no recommendations. They have left the foreign ministers a free hand. In the circumstances that is a doubtful advantage. As likely as not the "free hand" will wind up in a free-for-all dispute at the conference table.

There is no indication yet that Canada and other allied powers of less magnitude will be allowed to take part in the treaty-making. But the treaties haven't been drafted yet, much less approved. Before they get through the foreign ministers may even invite help from these quarters.

The whole project of dictating treaties with these enemy states was undertaken in the wrong way. The procedure should have started with a full discussion in the Assembly of the United Nations. Had that course been taken, the foreign ministers would now know what it is they are trying to do. Perhaps they will have to go back to the Assembly for advice.

Highway Touring

Motor tourists from the United States, in considerable numbers, may be expected to roll through Edmonton next summer, en route to survey the scenic attractions along the Alaska Highway.

This is to be gathered from the statement of an official at Washington that the Canadian section of the Highway will be open to tourist traffic "in a short time." He would hardly have said this without knowing that stopping places and other tourist accommodation would be available at suitable distances when the touring season arrives. The statement was evidently made to pass this information along to the motoring public in the United States, perhaps in response to inquiries.

The announcement accords with assurance given at Ottawa last summer that these wayside facilities along the highway were in course of construction. Both at Ottawa and Washington motorists were warned against making the trip until this accommodation was in readiness.

This summer's movement will not, however, be of "rush" proportions. For the reason that, from Whitehorse to Fairbanks stopping places have not yet been provided. Motor travel over that section will therefore have to be of the gypsy pattern, with tents and camping paraphernalia packed in the tonneau or tied on the running boards. This was made plain in the statement at Washington.

The real tourist value of the Highway will not be realized until the Alaska section is equipped with facilities for motorists who do not care for camping out at night. But there is reason to suppose that a good many cars from the United States, and a good many from Canada also, will head "down" the highway as far as Whitehorse when this year's touring season begins.

Shifting the Emphasis

Marshal Stalin has doffed his uniform, turned over the command of Russia's military forces to Marshal Bulganin and will devote himself to rebuilding and expanding the Soviet economy, handling foreign affairs, and looking after the organization and activities of the Communist party.

This means that the emphasis is to be placed on the things of peacetime: the five year plan, international politics, particularly, not forgetting the management and direction of the party machine by which the government is kept in power.

The quite plain inference is that in Stalin's opinion there is no outside threat to Russia or its legitimate interests which would require first attention to military matters. Otherwise, the Commander in Chief would stay on the job and delegate other responsibilities to his cabinet colleagues.

No man is better situated to judge whether the world trend is toward peace or peril. As Stalin is turning his energies to economic and political affairs, while the Russian army is dispersing into civilian life, this can be taken as proof that the trend is definitely away from international discord.

The position which the Soviet Prime Minister holds makes his action peculiarly significant. Whatever others at Moscow may say, it is Stalin who dictates the moves. He has intervened to counter both Molotov and Gromyko in the interests of harmony in the United Nations councils, even when doing so left their faces red. The suspicion-spouting Moscow newspapers are not to be taken too seriously. They are controlled, but not too rigidly. In the final event they are only used to stir up the party spirit at home, not to expound Russian policy abroad.

Pressure of other business is given as the reason for Stalin's withdrawal from the military set-up.

Among the "other business" on the program is the coming conference to discuss peace treaties with Germany and Austria. That he will interest himself very actively in these discussions is certain, whether on the stage or behind the scenes. And what he says there will "go" so far as Russia is concerned.

The shift from the role of war leader to director of peace time policies can be taken as a definite sign that Russia's chief force is lessening of international tension of a dangerous type. No man in all the world can do more to ease that tension than he can.

Hitler Did It

Whatever it may be called, for diplomatic reasons or convenience, the new pact between Great Britain and France is a military alliance. But it is restricted and conditional. The two countries are bound to make common cause should Germany again threaten either of them. That is the specific object and effect. They are not pledged to act as allies should either become involved with some country other than Germany.

France is already in alliance with Russia to the same effect, and Britain's treaty with the Soviet Union would become operative in the same circumstances. The broad result is a defensive triangle fronting Germany on the west, east and north. Should another Hitler come on the scene we would have to face imminent war on three fronts if he moved in either direction.

These interlocking treaties come under the heading of "regional pacts," which are not only allowable under the United Nations Charter, but are definitely recognized as desirable supplementary safeguards when contracted between members of the general organization. Should the Security Council fail to prevent a resurgence of aggression in Germany, these bi-lateral but complementary agreements will still hold, and the three powers stand pledged to protect each other.

The Fuehrer used to talk about Germany being "fenced in." It was not fenced in then, but it is now. And Adolf was the man who brought this about.

THE UNSEEN AUDIENCE

Palestine Choice

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

The most serious charge that can be made against British policy these days is that it is contradictory.

Britain can hardly claim to be consistent when, in one breath, she thrills the whole world by promising to free India by June, 1948—yet hangs on to Palestine with a stubbornness that can only be called amazing. Yet the former has been an asset—the latter a liability.

WHATEVER else Mr. Churchill is, he will never be accused of lacking in ardor for the British Empire. At best, when his rolling voice was worth an army, he said:

"At all times, and through all the vicissitudes through which we are hurried, I have always been true to two causes—the greatness of England and her empire, and the historical continuity of our island life."

At his worst—after Hitler's tide had been turned back—he growled:

"I did not become His Majesty's first minister to preside at the liquidation of the British Empire."

IN REGARD to Palestine Mr. Churchill says he has always held that Britain has no strategic interest there—that it is not necessary to maintain British armed forces there to safeguard the British Empire.

Why then does a socialist government—elected on an anti-imperialist ticket—pledged to do the very thing that Churchill balked at—namely, to liquidate the British Empire in order to help build a free world commonwealth—why does that same government hang on?

These are matters about which every intelligent person should think before this matter comes before the United Nations. One sure thing is that there is no long-term solution to the Palestine question except on a basis of democracy for the people of Palestine. There is obviously room for argument as to whether Palestine should be one nation, or two. But there is no room for prolonged argument over the right of the residents of Palestine to govern themselves as free people.

IN PRACTICAL politics the question is: Will Palestine be split into two states?

If this were done, the boundaries of the new Judea would naturally be drawn on racial lines. That is, the Jews could only expect to get, as their all-Jewish country, a little chunk of land where they are already solidly settled. The Arabs would get the remainder. That would mean that the hundreds of thousands of prospective Jewish immigrants to Palestine would have to be crowded into a tiny land already over-crowded on the basis of existing means of support.

If, on the other hand, the Jews were willing to follow the lead of Dr. Magnes of the Hebrew University, and agree with the Arabs to set up a two-race state as we have in Canada, they would at least have a chance for much larger living space in future.

THERE WILL never be peace in Palestine, in my judgment, till the British armies are taken out—and kept out. To put in United States forces, with the British, would only make confusion worse confounded. The only possible step more foolish would be to put in French and Russians also. To provide the makings of that third world war a multinational army of occupation would be a natural sparkplug.

The whole Palestine business seems to me to boil down to this: If and when the British get out there may be a little shooting and there will be plenty of shouting. But if the British try to hang on, on the present impossible basis—satisfying neither Jew nor Arab—the end will be they will be shot at by both.

Racialism in Britain

BY F. B. WALKER

In assessing reports of race prejudice in Great Britain, it would be well to remember at all times that the British people have a passion for freedom and justice that can be matched nowhere else on earth.

They have proved their faith times without number. Civil liberty is supreme in England. Religious freedom is fully respected. To British shores for sanctuary and help have come refugees political exiles and revolutionaries from all lands. British justice has been recognized as the image of equity. The endangered cause of freedom, the independence of small peoples, the hatred of tyranny have stirred Englishmen and made them crusaders for the right.

When persecution struck down the Jews of Europe, tiny England found a home for more refugees than were admitted to the United States or to the under-populated Dominions. The friendship of Britain for Poland is well known and needs no emphasis here.

THE BRITISH people have not repented their generosity. The nation which issued the Balfour Declaration promising national freedom to the Jewish people still wishes to deal justly with the Jew, even though daily outrages break out in Palestine and the illegal activities of terrorist groups feed the prejudices of extremist minorities that are to be found in any country. But the heart of the British people is sound. The vocal groups guilty of this prejudice should not be confused with the great bulk of silent, decent, compassionate, liberty-loving Englishmen.

But the longer terror rages in Palestine the harder it will be to restrain extremism in England, the wider will the poison of prejudice spread in other countries, the more deeply will world opinion be estranged from the justice that resides in the Zionist cause. It is with these considerations in mind that the following report on signs of race prejudice in England should be read and pondered.

IT IS PROBABLY an exaggeration to say that each bomb fired in Palestine creates a thousand anti-Semites in Britain but it is no exaggeration to say that the Jewish terrorists in the Holy Land are successfully continuing a job which the Nazis began. Twice in the past few weeks the Evening Standard has run cartoons by Low pointing this fact. A recent cartoon showed a Jewish store in a west of London in which the reflection was the monster of anti-Semitism. A mental ghetto is being raised against the Jews in Britain today and signs of it are apparent not only in the frequency with which one hears anti-Semitic remarks but also in physical outrages which have lately taken place.

Two attempts have been made recently to burn synagogues. A Jewish store in a west of London city was stoned and in each of these three incidents the perpetrators excused their acts by declaring they were committed in retaliation against the terrorists in Palestine.

The authors of these incidents are doubtless cranks of the type who once were Mosley's bully boys in the East of London. But one also heard anti-Semitic remarks in the streets, on buses and in trains.

AT PRESENT this anti-Semitism is superficial. A halt to the activities of the terrorists in Palestine would be reflected almost immediately by a drop in the feeling in Britain but the danger is that the fanatic Jew will continue his work and while he may win a home for his fellows in Palestine he may also lose one for his fellow in England.

This correspondent cannot remember the Jew as such in Britain ten years ago. He was then just another man or woman whose only distinguishing figure was that he went to another form of church and went there on Saturday instead of Sunday. Now the attempt at segregation appears to be beginning and once it is realized then it will take years to remove.

Social Dependence

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

It is sometimes pointed out by students of the Bible that when Cain asked "Am I my brother's keeper?" he did not receive any direct reply to that particular question. There is today, unfortunately, a fairly large class of people who seem to draw their inspiration from this fact and proceed to live their lives without any attempt whatever to act as their brothers' keepers.

Their philosophy is that the efficient and able people are quite capable of looking after themselves, will always be able to look after themselves, and that they will be much more efficient and successful if they are not turned from any of their ambitions or desires by any unnecessary sentimental consideration for their fellow men.

There is something admirable about the person who is so sure that he is quite able to stand on his own two feet. But there is something pitiful about the strong man who is so proud of his strength that he is blinded to the necessity of insuring that his two feet are placed on solid ground. There is something repulsive about the strong man who is too busy testing his strength and admiring his muscles to give a little assistance to his less fortunate brother.

It should be perfectly clear to any thinking person today that no man can live by himself alone. There isn't one of us who isn't dependent on dozens, and thousands of other people. If it were not for our society, which is a complex structure made up of all sorts of people who are trying to earn their livings in all sorts of ways, none of us could enjoy any of the many privileges and comforts which we have come to take for granted.

OUR FREE enterprise system offers unlimited opportunities to the efficient and the capable provided they have the courage and foresight to make the most of their many opportunities. But the efficient and capable will only be able to achieve their ambitions provided they get the co-operative assistance of a great many people who are less efficient and not-so-capable. It is up to the efficient people therefore, and in their best interests, to see that they give a little of their time and talents to improve the lot of those on whom they depend.

The future of our society depends, more than anything else, on the manner in which our efficient and capable citizens conduct themselves. If they use their abilities to improve the lot of everyone then we need have no fear for the future. If on the other hand they concentrate on getting as much as they can for themselves without a thought for the others then you can be sure that eventually the others are going to get fed up—and our way of life will become a forgotten by-way of the past.

It is significant that some other provinces have recently adopted legislation similar in principle to ours. Each, after careful study, discarded (as was done in Alberta) the idea of making a negative serological test a prerequisite to marriage.

HAROLD ORR, M.D.

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

PRE-MARITAL TESTS

Editor, Bulletin—The two editorial which have appeared in The Bulletin on the pre-marital serological test for syphilis, should I think, be supplemented with a few additional facts about the other side of the question.

There is a general approval of the test but the legislation is criticized on the ground that marriage is not prevented in the presence of a positive serological test.

The reason is largely because of the test itself. Unfortunately a positive test does not necessarily mean syphilis. Whilst it is true that the great majority of syphilitic persons have a positive test it is equally true that a great many conditions other than syphilis, and including the common cold, may sometimes cause a positive serological test. In the case of a person whose test is positive but who has no other evidence of syphilis some months may be required to run down the significance of the positive test. There were two hundred and fifty-four positive pre-marital serological tests in the province last year and, of these, fifty proved in the end to be the result of causes other than syphilis, leaving two hundred and four marriages involving a syphilitic person. None of these persons was in the infectious stage of the disease and none, so far as is known, infected the partner to the marriage.

On the other hand the infected partner in each of about two hundred marriages was made aware of his condition and treatment facilities placed at his disposal, thus preventing an infectious relapse later on, and the possible transmission of the disease to the children which the couple will eventually have.

It is obvious that a law permitting only persons with negative tests to marry would have resulted in the postponement, for up to several months, of five marriages every week throughout the year. The reason for these postponements would be obvious. In view of the unpleasantness and embarrassment it would bring to the five hundred persons concerned would the legislature be justified in changing the law? At present it does what it was intended to do—detect unsuspected syphilis in marriage with the least possible fuss, and bring about the cure of the infected without recourse to any restrictive measures.

It is significant that some other provinces have recently adopted legislation similar in principle to ours. Each, after careful study, discarded (as was done in Alberta) the idea of making a negative serological test a prerequisite to marriage.

Hail New Wheat For Peace River

OTTAWA, (CP)—J. G. C. Fraser, cereals division expert of the central experimental farm here, Tuesday disclaimed credit for the development of Saunders wheat—hail as the most promising early wheat yet bred for northern Alberta—although he has headed the project since research on the new strain began nine years ago.

The wheat, named for two leading dominion cereal experts, was recently recommended for licensing at Winnipeg. It is described as a variety which satisfies the need for an earlier, disease-free wheat of Thatcher variety.

No one man should get credit for it, Mr. Fraser said. "These cereal developments are on a project basis and everyone works on them. While I was selected to head this project, I had the co-operation of other plant breeding specialists, plant pathologists who studied the variety's increasing resistance to disease, and the division's chemist and his associates who reported on the protein content and baking quality of flour milled from this wheat."

Over a final four-year test, the new variety averaged in Alberta a yield equal to that of Thatcher and slightly better than that of either Red Bobs or Marquis. It matures three days earlier than Thatcher and 5½ days earlier than Marquis, important considerations in the relatively brief frost-free growing period of the Peace River area.

The Saunders kernel has the good color of Marquis, and is better than that of Thatcher. It has been named Saunders in recognition of the contributions to wheat growing of Dr. William Saunders, first director of the experimental farm service, and his son, Sir Charles Saunders, first dominion cerealist. Sir Charles developed Marquis, the first early wheat.

It will take some time before the new wheat can be made available to farmers in the Peace River district. At present there are only 200 bushels of seed and these will be sown this spring at the dominion experimental stations in Lacombe and Beaver Lodge, Alta.

Parked Car or No, Street Snow Must Go

One Edmonton motorist on Wednesday received a shock when he went to remove his car from a parking location on 101 st. south of Jasper ave. In addition to having a police "parking tag" on it, the car was snowed in. This was caused by snow removal workers who were unable to move the vehicle and were forced to work around it. As a result, they were forced to pile the snow around the three sides of the car while they continued down the street. After several unsuccessful attempts to back the car out, the driver received assistance from passers-by and workers.

British House Is Turbulent As Trial of Africans Bared

By Basil Dean

LONDON.—Britain's house of commons rumbled with turbulent anger Monday night over the case of five African Gold Coast natives under sentence of death who have been taken to a place of execution four times—and four times granted postponement.

But although M.P.'s of all parties were chiefly concerned with the apparent affront to British justice which is involved, the real story lay in much darker shadows—the shadows of black magic, witch doctors and ancient primitive superstitions, which still hang over large areas of Britain's African colonies. The five men are facing the death penalty for a "juju" ritual murder. Four stays of execution have already been granted pending appeals to the privy council and applications for His Majesty the King's clemency. Although their execution was finally fixed for Tuesday, it appeared certain at his writing that a further stay would be granted following urgent representations from the colonial secretary, Arthur Creech Jones, to Sir Alan Burns, Gold Coast governor.

Funeral Last Week

In 1943, Sir Afori Atta, paramount chief of Kibi, died. Six months later, people whom he ruled held a ceremonial funeral with rites lasting a week.

One of the attending dignitaries was Akweya Mansah, subchief of Apedwa. During the second day of the ceremonies, he vanished.

According to juju beliefs, which are still strong among many Gold Coast natives, Sir Afori Atta's spirit needed a companion on his long journey into the unknown. The story of Akweya Mansah's disappearance was pieced together by police and colonialists from witnesses, who said they had watched through the latticework of the palace windows. Eight men all of royal standing, and three of them sons of Sir Afori Atta, had invited Akweya Mansah inside the palace. There the offered him a drink.

Clubbed to Death

As he leaned forward, he was clubbed from behind. One of the eight ran a sword through his cheek—to prevent his from speaking the "great oath," which would have enabled his ghost to haunt his murders.

They clubbed to death Atta's bodyguard, also ranked as chief.

The eight were tried and convicted after a trial lasting 23 days. One has since died; two others had their death sentences commuted.

The remaining five were originally ordained to die in November 1945. Execution was postponed to permit appeals.

The opinion of the house of commons was clearly against executing these men. That opinion was based on humanitarianism and Britain's cherished liberal traditions of law. But if they are reprieved, it will look to millions of natives throughout Africa as if the ancient "juju" is indeed stronger than the power of the white king. Colonial officials frankly fear rioting and widespread weakening of British authority.

British Expenditure For Army Slashed

LONDON, (Reuters)—Britain will spend $386,000,000 ($1,552,000,000) on her army in the financial year beginning April 1, government estimates disclosed.

The figure compares with $682,000,000 during the previous 12 months.

The army establishment will fall from 2,950,000 in 1946-47 to 1,210,000. The new figure includes 102,200 officers and men for European garrison compared with 1,328,500 previously and 469,300 in garrisons outside Europe (compared with 943,500).

Miners Exempted From Conscription

U.S. Senate Asked Ratify Treaties

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Former State Secretary James F. Byrnes Tuesday urged quick United States senate ratification of peace treaties with Italy, Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania as a step in the direction of world "stability and peace."

As long as the armistice regimes continue, Byrnes declared, the four defeated countries cannot "look forward to a future free from the possibility of interference in every phase of their national life."

The United States and British forces in Italy have already been reduced almost to the level of the level, Byrnes said in a statement prepared for the senate foreign relations committee beginning its consideration of the Second Great War's first peace pacts.

"The same cannot be said for the forces of occupation in other countries which must now leave within 90 days after the entry into force of the treaties."

Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary are occupied by Russian troops.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The American Jewish conference proposed Tuesday that the peace treaty with Germany require payment of reparations to the Jewish people.

Pope Hurts Ankle; Suspends Audiences

ROME, (AP)—Pope Pius tripped on a stone and dislocated an ankle in walking through the Vatican gardens three days ago, the Italian news agency Ansa reported Monday. He celebrated his 71st birthday Sunday.

The ankle appeared swollen Monday, Ansa said, and the pontiff temporarily suspended public audiences, which require him to be on his feet for considerable periods.

May Ask R.C.M.P. To Police Cities

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Representations will be made in the senate by Mayor G. G. McOwen to have the R.C.M.P. assume policing duties in Vancouver and other major Canadian cities.

R.C.M.P. handle provincial police duties in all but the provinces of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

Mayor McOwen said Monday that in order to fight the current crime wave "there must be far-reaching understanding between the law enforcement authorities of our national, civil and provincial governments." He declared that wherever the R.C.M.P. have taken over from civil and provincial police "they have done a much better job than was ever done before at much less cost."

He also expressed his conviction that young thugs are being schooled in crime by older youths and then supplied with guns for a career of crime.

An underworld "double-cross" was believed behind the frustrated hold-up attempt and the gun battle here last Wednesday in which two police officers and a bandit-suspect were killed.

A mysterious informer telephoned police that three masked men were approaching a Royal bank branch but despite a call from authorities he has not made his identity known.

Manitoba Rink Wins 4 Straight in Brier

SAINT JOHN, N.B., March 5 (CP)—Manitoba remained the only undefeated rink in the Canadian curling championships last night as the team skipped by Jimmy Welsh fought from behind in the fourth round to defeat Howard Palmer's Alberta foursome 9-7 and head the parade of Canada's top 10 rinks of 1967 with four wins against no losses.

In the morning round the Welsh rink curled to an easy 2-1 victory over Sandy Campbell's Saskatchewan champions.

Northern Ontario was close on Manitoba's heels, chalking up two wins Tuesday, 13-7 over Quebec in the morning and 9-6 over Ontario in the afternoon round as they weathered a home stretch drive by the Nicol MacNicol rink from Toronto.

THAT GAVE THE Don Best skipped rink from Kirkland Lake a standing of three wins and one defeat.

Northern Ontario's only loss in the meet was at the hands of Manitoba in the second round Monday night.

Five teams are tied in third place with two wins and two losses each. British Columbia, Ontario, Nova Scotia, Saskatchewan and New Brunswick, while Alberta, Quebec and Prince Edward Island have one victory and three defeats each.

In other afternoon games, New Brunswick defeated Nova Scotia 12-5, Saskatchewan took a close one from British Columbia 10-9 and Prince Edward Island marked up its first win by taking Quebec 11-8.

ONTARIO EDGED Alberta 9-8 in a tense match that highlighted the morning round, Nova Scotia won 12-9 over Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick had a fairly easy time defeating British Columbia.

A pair of hard breaks lost the match for Palmer of Alberta after he had led Manitoba right to the tenth end, Palmer's knockout shot veered off sharply at the hog line and went through the house, giving Manitoba three stones and tying the match. In the eleventh end he missed another shot and Welsh put two in the house, one of which Palmer clipped out on his last rock.

THE ONTARIO-ALBERTA match drew the gallery in the morning round. It was a see-saw battle with Alberta drawing even twice in the last five rounds and coming within a single stone of sending it into an extra end in the final heat.

Last night the curlers took a holiday to attend a reception attended by the premiers of the three maritime provinces and other officials, with play getting under way again this morning.

The morning draw pitted Manitoba against British Columbia; Nova Scotia-Alberta; Saskatchewan-New Brunswick; Northern Ontario-Prince Edward Island; and Quebec-Ontario.

Flyers "On the Spot" After Leaf Victory

Hall Bags Trio When Lethbridge Triumphs 5 to 3

It took Dave Schriener's Lethbridge Maple Leafs just 60 minutes to erase an advantage Edmonton Flyers battled tooth-and-nail for all season, and move into the driver's seat themselves, as they crushed the homesters 5-3 here last night in the opening game of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League semi-final playoff. The second game is billed here tomorrow night.

If home games mean anything, and the consensus is that they do, then the Flyers are faced with the big task of defeating the Leafs at least once in their own "back yard." Flyers, by finishing the season ahead of Lethbridge, had qualified to have at least three of the five playoff games, if the series goes the limit, in the Capital City.

THE DEFEAT was a heart-breaker for coach Riley Mullen and his charges. They played their hearts out all night, but Lady Luck frowned on them at the critical moments, or Bill Brennan rose to the heights in the opposition net.

Flyers had a wide edge in territorial play, but they weren't opportunists like their rivals, who played their cards close to their vests all night. After Bing Jukes had given them the lead for the third time midway through the third period, the Southerners played strictly a defensive game and lay back and waited for the breaks.

MULLEN, who had watched his boys come from behind twice and dominate the play for 60 minutes in their losing effort, remarked after the game that it almost seemed that the Lethbridge goal was turned around at times. The Flyers had plenty of opportunities, but they passed up most of them.

Lethbridge skated off the ice after the first period with a 2-0 lead, and still on top 3-2 at the close of the second and outscored the Northerners 2-1 in the last frame.

GRANT HALL was the hero of the Maple Leafs, netting three goals. Stan Maxwell and Bing Jukes got the rest, while Bob Solinger bagged two for the Flyers and Bill Maher the other.

Leafs only had eight shots at the Edmonton net in the first period, compared with 11 at the other end, but they capitalized on two of them. The game had scarcely got started when Hall took a pass from Don Menzies at the blue line and fired a hot one into the corner of the net after skating to within 15 feet of his target.

EDMONTON went on the offensive and peppered Brennan with rubber from all distances, but couldn't dim the twine. Maxwell placed the Leafs further in the lead at the 17-minute mark with an angle back-hander that slipped over McCauley's shoulder. Whitey Rimstad made the play at the Edmonton blue line.

Flyers were finally rewarded for their efforts early in the second when Solinger took a pass from Gordon Watt and beat Brennan with a long, low shot. Bob Love, of Lethbridge, was serving a penalty at the time.

ON ANOTHER ganging attack Solinger knotted the score with a similar shot, but this time Bing Merluk made the play. Four minutes later Hall broke away and shot the puck between McCauley's legs, with Watt and Bim Barker trying to catch him. Bob Love and Cy Thomas caused a little excitement when they took a sudden dislike to each other and started swinging their fists. Both received majors.

LESS THAN A minute later Jukes came through with what proved to be the winning goal. He crossed the line with Love, who relayed the puck to the young Leaf star. He picked the lower right hand corner. Steve Latoski had a glorious opportunity to tuck the game away when he was home free, but the Lethbridge sniper couldn't get McCauley to move and shot the disc into his pads.

A penalty to Solinger enabled the Leafs to net the clincher. Hall tallying after a pass from Latoski.

Flyers outhot Leafs 14-7 in the second period and 14-6 in the third, giving an edge for the entire game of 39 to 21. Official paid attendance was 5,914.

Calgary Takes Lead In Series With Elks

CALGARY, March 5 (CP)—Calgary Stampeders coasting easily at a pace far below their best, rolled up a 7-3 score against Saskatoon Elks before a crowd of 4,223 fans here last night in the first game of a best-of-five Western Canada Senior Hockey League semi-final.

Ahead 3-1 in the first period and 5-2 in the second, the regular season leaders were never in trouble as Elks skated fast, uncovered occasional dangerous rushes, but generally showed little in the way of real playoff hockey.

Bunny Dame and Archie Wilder paced the winners with two goals each, the others coming from Bob Brownridge, Doug French and Doug Cairns with nearly every other member of the club earning credit for assists.

LIVINGSTONE, Shabaga and Fenn scored for Elks, the latter in the final minute of play as fans were streaming to the exits.

It was an easy game for referees Roy Kerr and Vic Lindquist of Winnipeg to handle as the players stayed strictly to stick work and skating, attempted few body checks and never once gave a hint of rough play. They issued only three penalties in the entire game and had barely a couple of off-sides to call.

Bob Brownridge opened the scoring when he raced through the entire Saskatoon team to poke the puck behind Buddy Simpson, unassisted after five minutes. Doug French slapped the rubber into the net from a scramble five minutes later, Dave Duchak getting credit for an assist, before Livingstone got a point back when he beat Dertell on a passout from Klein.

Ben Hoffstetter Rolls Score 435

Ben Hoffstetter, bowling in the Swift's league, and affiliated league of the Edmonton Five Pin Bowling Association, rolled a single game of 435 pins, Wednesday. Ben started with a spare and then proceeded to roll 11 strikes in a row.

He was unfortunate in that on the spare in the first frame it was what is termed as a corner pin hit. That is on his first ball he knocked them all down, but one pin in the corner, and if it hadn't been for that narrow margin he would have had the bowlers' dream of a perfect game.

HIS GAME of 435, however, did establish a new single game record for the EPBBA.

On the next game he started off again with 2 strikes, which meant that he actually rolled 13 strikes in a row in the two games.

May Cancel Hockey For 1948 Olympics

By Jack Sullivan

LONDON, March 5.-(CP)- John F. (Bunny) Ahearne, newly-appointed general secretary of the Ligue Internationale De Hockey Sur Glace, said in an interview last night the international Olympic committee may decide to cancel hockey competition for the 1948 games.

boards, Archie Wilder let fly with a long shot from just inside the blue line, landing it in the lower right corner of the net.

Shabaga put Elks back into the game with a short shot from just outside the crease after taking a cross-the-goal relay from Richardson and Livingstone, but Wilder neutralized it with another long shot from the right.

Bunny Dame, sent away by Desmarais and Shogquist, went straight through three Elks players at the centre of the blue line and beat Simpson with a neat shot to the corner.

A LONG SHOT from the left that went in off a Saskatoon defenceman's skate put Doug Cairns into the scoring column midway through the third frame and there was some desultory back-and-forth skating before Bunny Dame swung in from the right boards at 19:17 for Stamp's last goal. Fenn took Hulme's pass almost from the face-off to count for Elks.

The Calgarys, playing without regular defenceman Bud Emery, who injured a finger at work earlier in the day - he is a machinist - used their third string line of Duchak, French and Wilder in regular turns with the other two for the first time this season.

Wilder also did regular chores on defence where Art Michalski handed out what few body checks there were in the game.

Simpson, in the Saskatoon goal, stopped 28 shots in addition to letting seven go by while Dertell blocked 19.

M. Bentley Threatens To Overtake Richard

MONTREAL, March 5.-(CP)- Max Bentley of Chicago is challenging for his second successive National Hockey League point scoring title and the speedy Black Hawk forward narrowed the lead held by Montreal's Maurice Richard to four points in last week's play, league statistics released Tuesday reveal.

Bentley collected seven points made up of three goals and four assists to bring his total to 50 points while Richard with 63 points, collected four goals and an assist in Montreal's last three games. He leads the league goal-getters with 40.

Doug Bentley of Hawks is third with 34 points while Detroit's Billy Taylor follows in fourth position with 30.

The official statistics do not include Monday night's game between Chicago and New York Rangers but Doug Bentley was the only scoring leader to increase his total. He gained an assist, giving him an unofficial point count of 35.

Goalie Bill Durnan leads in the goals-against department with only 121 goals scored on him in 51 games.

Gus Morton has spent a total of 123 minutes in the penalty box to hold the dubious honor of the league's "bad boy."

Girls' Basketball

Series Postponed

The northern Alberta girls intermediate basketball finals, scheduled to open between Red Deer Hamblers and Edmonton Army and Navy Pats at Red Deer Saturday, has been postponed due to sickness of some of the Red Deer players.

The Red Deer club made the request last night that the series opener be postponed a few days and Clare Hollingsworth of the Pats was agreeable. Tentative arrangements are for the Edmonton team to journey to Red Deer for the series opener on Tuesday of next week.

Community Rink

Planned for 'Peg

WINNIPEG, March 5.-(CP)- Erection of an indoor hockey and skating rink for use by community clubs was advocated here Monday night by C. F. Greene, honorary secretary of the Associated Community clubs of greater Winnipeg.

The proposed rink would have a seating capacity of about 1,000, he said, and an admission fee of no more than five cents. "It would be a place where community clubs could play league or final games. On our own rinks we can never tell when a blizzard will come."

A year ago when the experts were handing the National League pennant to the Cards on a silver platter, Dyer offered a word of caution about Brooklyn.

AS A FORMER employe of Branch Rickey, Dyer has a healthy respect for the entire Brooklyn organization. He wasn't wrong last year and he probably won't be this season.

Dyer and his Cardinals don't agree with the consensus that Leo Durocher did it with mirrors last year.

"The Dodgers had a good ball club," Dyer said, "one of the best shortstops in the business in Pee Wee Reese, a great outfielder in Pete Reiser and a good pitching staff. They said that little Eddie Stanky can't throw, can't run and can't hit. Well, I put him on my all-star team. He was rough on us."

THE CARD SKIPPER also expects trouble from Boston and Chicago.

"Boston looks like the most improved team in the league. Bob Elliott will help them an awful lot and Billy (Southworth) can get the most out of those boys."

Both Boston runs came in the fourth inning on a walk, an error, another base on balls, a forced play and a flyout.

IT was as quick as that! All was serene in the household, with the Male Parent working in his den, the rest of the family scattered around. Then, all of a sudden, Pop exploded like a landmine.

What had happened to Pop? - Was it the bills? - no, they came every month. Was it the kids? - no, Pop usually took them in his stride. Was it - yes, this sounds like it - a caffeine hang-over? For Pop had been going it rather strong for tea and coffee recently.

Gold Mines to Get Taxation Relief

OTTAWA, (CP) — Finance Minister Abbott Tuesday announced in the commons a three-way plan to bring taxation relief to gold mines and said that one of the steps would include raising the depletion allowance from 33 1/3 percent to 40 percent of profits earned on and after Jan. 1, 1947.

Mr. Abbott said that the second step, aimed particularly at helping low-grade marginal gold mines, would increase from $2 to $4 an ounce the depletion allowance on gold produced after June 30, 1946.

Under the third proposal, new gold mines would be relieved of the necessity of putting into their books the appropriate write-off for depreciation and pre-production expenses.

Resolution Passes House

Government Asked to Study Automobile Insurance Plan

Unanimous support was given in the Legislature Tuesday to a resolution which requests the provincial government to take action to "insure adequate insurance protection for those involved in auto accidents."

THE ORIGINAL motion which suggested compulsory insurance for all motor vehicles, to be provided by the government as nearly as possible to cover every person in the province, had been introduced on Thursday last by A. J. E. Liesemer (CCF, Calgary) and debated at that time had been adjourned by C. I. Sayers (SC, Camrose). He moved an amendment to the motion.

In the discussion which followed Mr. Sayers' amendment, members on both sides of the house rapped Saskatchewan's system of compulsory insurance and Manitoba's financial responsibility legislation.

In presenting his amendment the Camrose member claimed a study of the Saskatchewan system had led him to the belief there was more money in the insurance business for the government than there was in liquor.

It looked like a real "racket" he said, claiming that profits represented 65 per cent of the amount of money collected from Saskatchewan's motorists, after claims had been paid and administrative and other expenses looked over.

When he rose to second the amendment A. V. Bourcier (SC-Lac Ste Anne) took issue with the compulsory features of the Saskatchewan insurance legislation.

THE PEOPLE of Alberta want adequate compensation in case of accident, not car insurance, he said. Under compulsory insurance he claimed that only one car driver is protected and that 999 careful drivers must pay for the accidents of one careless one.

The Manitoba system of financial responsibility, which was introduced by W. J. Williams (Vet, Edmonton) who pointed out that regulations from that province make it necessary for the driver to show financial responsibility, either that he has car insurance or the means to pay claims, or else his vehicle may be impounded, should be involved in an accident.

This took place if a car was involved in an accident even though the driver of the vehicle was not in any way responsible for the accident.

"I REALIZE," he said, "that no matter what we say, the government will do what its mind is already made up to do."

To obtain compensation under the Manitoba regulations recourse must be made to the courts, he said. In that way "you are providing work for all the lawyers which will see them all the way through the next depression."

He also voiced bitter complaint against the way drivers' licenses were issued in this province and suggested that applicants should be thoroughly tested.

There were obvious weaknesses in both the Saskatchewan and the Manitoba plans, Gordon Taylor (SC-Drumheller) said and listed a few of both systems. He urged that Alberta should evolve its own system in view of the experiences of the other provinces.

TESTING of applicants for drivers' licenses would not reduce the number of accidents, Premier Ernest Manning said in reply to contentions of the veteran member for Edmonton. Statistics show that most accidents are caused by inexperienced drivers who would readily pass any tests that might be given to them.

Hon. R. Earl Ansley, education minister, claimed that drivers covered by car insurance are more likely to have accidents than others. "They have evaded personal responsibility," he said.

Under the Saskatchewan system of compulsory insurance, red tape had been slashed to a minimum for those persons seeking financial compensation after being involved in an accident, Elmer E. Roper (CCF-Edmonton) told the assembly when he rose to close the debate.

He told Mr. Bourcier that in complaining of compulsory features of the suggested legislation he was not representing the people of the province who through scores of resolutions passed at conventions had urged compulsory car insurance. One of these was the Social Credit convention of last year, he said.

Clothes Start Garage Fire

Clothing hanging near a gas heater in the office of the CN Service Station, 10365 99 street, caused a minor blaze about 1:15 a.m. Wednesday. Estimate of the damage is about $55. This includes clothing lost and slight damage to one wall and the ceiling of the office.

One fire rig under supervision of Fire Captain Cecil Elmer responded. One line of hose was used to subdue the flames. Joseph Kovacs, 10331 101 street, was first to notice the fire and turned in the alarm.

"Mt. Ike" OK But Not Action

The Alberta Geographic Board is happy that an Alberta mountain was selected to honor a great American warrior, when Castle Mountain became Mount Eisenhower, but the board feels that the Alberta representative on the Canadian Geographic Board, H. P. Brownlee, might at least have been consulted, which it seems, he was not.

In the language of the report, tabled in the legislature Tuesday by Hon. A. J. Hooke—"While the Alberta board is wholly in sympathy with the paying of honor to General Eisenhower, it deprecates the unilateral way in which this action was taken."

Stand on Parking Meters Clarified

Clarifying the attitude of the Alberta Motor Association toward the possible installation of parking meters in the city, a statement was prepared and submitted to a luncheon meeting of the board of directors, Edmonton branch, Tuesday at the Club Roosevelt.

THIS WAS PREPARED in reply to an address by Mayor Harry Ainlay, in mid-February, when he spoke in refutation of the work advanced by the association against the installation of the meters. The reasons had been presented to the mayor and city government officials at a meeting in the mayor's office some time previously. The question of parking meters for Edmonton is before city council now.

C. H. Grant, K.C., was chairman at the Tuesday meeting and read the statement.

"The AMA position and recommendations are based on recommendations prepared for the AAA (American Automobile Association in the United States) by traffic engineers after a complete study of the parking problem in hundreds of cities of all sizes.

"Briefly stated, the AMA points out that their reasons are five. First, parking meters do not solve the parking problem—and are only a temporary measure to cope with increased traffic conditions. The time necessary to service meters would probably be sufficient to enforce existing parking regulations without meters, and enforcement is still necessary with meters.

"METERS REDUCE the number of cars which can use the available parking space. Regardless of whether meters are installed or not, off-street parking must be provided and used. The charge made by the parking meters constitutes an additional tax on the motorist.

"Our recommendation was that a committee or commission headed by the city engineers or other competent person be established, to study the parking problem, make recommendations and if found desirable, to secure and make available adequate off-street parking facilities.

"WHATEVER WAY the matter is looked at parking meters will not cure the parking situation, and the use of parking meters, without providing needed parking space, as favored by His Worship would only aggravate the traffic as well as the parking problem, and at the same time probably create considerable ill will as well as misunderstanding of the whole situation."

Low-Cost Homes Needed Subsidy Plan Said Remedy In Canada Housing Crisis

The answer to the housing problem now facing veterans and others alike was a program of subsidization, Harper Prowse (Army) told the Legislature Tuesday when he spoke in the throne speech debate in the Alberta house.

IT IS TRUE that such a program would mean continued high taxes or it might mean higher taxes, the army member said. He continued:

"Let there be an end to this nagging about high taxes. If we sell a pig today we get $20.75 per hundred pounds and out of this we have to pay the government $8. Let us remember that the $12 we have left over is more than twice as much as we would have received in 1934."

Mr. Prowse said that veterans in great majority were living in accommodation which was inadequate and for which they were paying more than they could afford.

He said that average veteran is employed for $90 to $125 a month and that 55 per cent of working force of the people was earning less than $1,200 a year.

THE CHEAPEST home which can be built in Canada today under regulations laid down by the building codes would cost more than $1,000 a room, or about $6,000 for an ordinary family unit. These homes are not available for the family earning only about $1,200 a year.

Only those with incomes of more than $3,000 could afford the upkeep of such a home and this group represents only about 4 per cent of the population, according to the Canada year book.

It is not surprising, Mr. Prowse said, that veterans were forced to obtain housing accommodation by squatting and regretted that these seizures of buildings were pointed out as examples of Communism.

The veterans were a law-abiding group, he said, "but by following Communists and other agitators they were able to house their families—something that paid officials of the government and well-meaning politicians had been unable to do for them."

In his opening remarks Mr. Prowse gave the record of ex-service personnel now settled in Canada. Fears had been expressed that many of these men after years in the armed services might be unable to settle down. But more than three quarters of them returned to civilian life without any assistance from the government.

A decree nisi of divorce was granted in supreme court Wednesday by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor to Lois G. Fuog from Paul A. Fuog.

Before The Magistrate

Margaret Feser, Edmonton, appeared in city court Wednesday morning, this time on a charge of stealing $5 in cash from Louise Mitchell, Edmonton. Magistrate A. J. Millar, K.C., imposed a prison term of 60 days at Fort Saskatchewan with hard labor.

According to evidence, the accused was given a letter to deliver to Louise Mitchell. Instead of making the delivery she opened the letter and stole five dollars contained in the envelope. The accused has previous convictions dating back to 1939.

John W. Bowe, Leduc, pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving and was fined $25 and costs or 35 days imprisonment. He was arrested Tuesday night after collision on Jasper avenue between 96 and 97 streets. Operator of the other vehicle involved was Alex W. Patrick, 9336 Rowland Road. Mrs. Patrick suffered a cut on the head and shock.

Total of Surpluses, Taxes for Year Utilities Revenue $1,213,218

Edmonton's five civic-owned utilities paid to the city treasury in taxes and net surpluses during 1946 a total of $1,213,218.65, the equivalent of approximately 20 mills at the current mill rate, according to a statement filed Wednesday with the city commissioners by A. A. Campbell, city comptroller.

In 1945 the total paid in taxes and surpluses was $1,221,581.17, or $8,362.52 more than last year.

Gross revenue from the utilities in 1946 was $7,619,560.59 compared with $7,509,606.90 for 1945, an increase of $109,953.69. Expenditures in 1946 amounted to $4,445,183.72 compared with $4,334,922.67 in 1945, an increase of $110,261.05.

The surplus on operation in 1946 was $3,174,377.72 compared with $3,264,714.23, a decrease of $90,336.46.

OF THE 1946 gross surplus $620,825.38 was paid out in capital charges, compared with $624,606.10 in 1945; $1,340,333.84 was placed to credits of renewal reserve accounts against $1,418,586.96 in 1945, and $824,476 was paid in taxes against $825,484.83 in 1945.

The net surplus on operation was $386,742 in 1946 compared with $386,096.34 in 1945, a decrease of $645.66.

In 1946 the electric light department showed a net surplus of $40,564.78; the power plant, $182,437.46; the telephone system, $139,830; and the waterworks department, $29,577. The street railway system showed a deficit of $5,647.21 on 1946 operations. THE NET SURPLUSES in 1945 were: Electric light department, $31,637.85; power plant, $175,528.77; telephone system, $131,913.81; waterworks, $30,124.70; and the transportation system, $6,891.27.

18-Year-Old Girl Missing

Sophie Quinn, 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Maria Quinn, 13416 113A street, is reported missing from her home since noon on Saturday, March 1, when she left home to attend a movie.

Her description is: five feet four inches tall, 130 pounds, black hair, black eyes, mole on left cheek and has a dark complexion. ## Old-Time Resident Dies at 90 Years

Miss Annie Stephens, of Deville, near Cooking Lake and formerly of this city, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Mary Meers, Deville, Monday. She was 90 years old. She lived in Edmonton until 10 years ago. She came west in 1911.

She was born at Owen Sound, Ontario, and lived with her brother and sister-in-law, the late Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Stephens, South Edmonton, until their deaths some years ago.

She is survived by one brother, Samuel in Barrie, Ont., and several nephews and nieces.

A funeral service will be held at the Hainstock and Sons chapel, Friday at 2 p.m., with the Rev. Canon W. N. Nainby officiating. Burial will take place in the family plot in Beechmount Cemetery.

May Study Plan Record Speeches

"It is a matter of opinion as to whether or not some of the speeches I have heard in this house are worthy of recording," Premier Ernest Manning said as he told the Legislature that the government had no objections to considering the inauguration of some system of recording proceedings of the house so that a permanent record of all remarks made in the assembly might be available.

THE PREMIER was speaking in the debate which followed the introduction of a resolution by Elmer E. Roper (CCF-Edmonton) that some consideration be given to a method of recording speeches.

Mr. Roper in introducing his resolution made passing reference to an argument which had arisen over a statement which he alleged the premier had made at the last session of the assembly, and which Mr. Manning denied.

The premier recalled that at one time an investigation had been made into possibilities of a Hansard system for the provincial house, but that this had been rejected as too expensive. An experiment, which had not been very satisfactory, had also been made of the possibilities of mechanically recording speeches.

He thought that present regulations represented an injustice to tenants and to landlords alike.

If the rent ceiling on residences is boosted it will represent a serious increase in the cost of living index, he said. From an index of 100 in 1939 rents had risen only to 113.4 in 1945, whereas the cost of living index had soared to 126.1.

RENTS HAD BEEN one item which had been rigidly controlled during the war but he said:

"With the recent blanket increase of 25 per cent in business rentals and likelihood of a blanket increase of at least 10 per cent in residential rentals, there will be wide-spread hardship worked on persons in the lower and average income brackets. This will force from working people in all occupations further demands for higher wages and more labor stoppages will result."

Members of the Ladies' Sewing circle of the community league, assisted under the convenship of Mrs. Cyril Smith.

Approximately 500 residents of the district and friends were in attendance.

In Alberta Legislature Social Creditor Attacks 'Stupid Socialistic Scheme'

Charges that the campaign recently staged for an increase in educational grants by the "Alberta Educational Organization" was an attempt to make a "political football" of a problem confronting every province, were laid in the Legislature Tuesday afternoon by A. V. Bourcier (SC-Lac Ste Anne) in the course of the throne speech debate.

AN EXAMINATION of the situation, and documents included a letterhead sent to him, along with other members, showed that most of the leaders in the organization were socialist figures in the province.

He had written to each of the 25 "participating organizations" listed in literature broadcast by the educational group, he said, and read to the house some of the letters he had received in reply. In some cases groups denied implication in the campaign, while others claimed that they supported the claims, but had been given little voice in the preparation of propaganda. Some frankly deplored the attacks on the government.

"This is simply a stupid socialist scheme to agitate the people of the province," Mr. Bourcier said.

"HOW DO OUR socialist friends figure it will help if the grant is raised?" he queried. The money must all come from the taxpayer in one way or another, and the 30 per cent increase requested would not increase the amount of money available for education at all.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Bourcier deplored the tendency of the part of Socialists to describe anyone opposed to them as Fascist and anti-Semitic. There is a Jewish problem, it has been featured in the newspapers of this world for some time now.

But the "mean tactics" of the Socialists would brand anyone who talked of it as anti-Semitic.

THE INTERNATIONAL bankers and international finance were headed in the same direction, he claimed, toward monopolistic control.

The Bank of England was an instance of the way these forces together, shareholders in the Bank of England were now assured of their dividends by the British government instead of by a private concern.

The CCF had denied that there was any chance of socialization of land under their program, but the Lac Ste. Anne member claimed that Britain's Socialist government was considering legislation which did actually socialize the land which put the farmer under severe compulsion.

Member Scores Rent Boost Plan

If the federal government does not review its decision to permit a 25 per cent boost in business rentals, and should the senior body adopt similar methods in boosting residential rents, the province should institute a system of rent control, A. J. E. Liesemer (CCF-Calgary) urged in a resolution he presented to the Legislature on Tuesday afternoon.

IT WAS A wrong principle for the government to adopt, Mr. Liesemer said, that permissive legislation of a blanket nature should be adopted. His resolution requested that cases of boosts in rental be considered on individual merits, and where expenses had risen so that landlords were suffering a handicap, then a raise in rents should be permitted.

He thought that present regulations represented an injustice to tenants and to landlords alike.

If the rent ceiling on residences is boosted it will represent a serious increase in the cost of living index, he said. From an index of 100 in 1939 rents had risen only to 113.4 in 1945, whereas the cost of living index had soared to 126.1.

RENTS HAD BEEN one item which had been rigidly controlled during the war but he said:

Permit Engineers To Work in Alberta

Government regulations have been amended so that engineers from other provinces may carry on a practice in Alberta. Prior to this, engineers had to secure an engineer's certificate in Alberta and to get this, the applicant was required to have experience in this province.

This has prevented industries with capable engineers in their branches in other provinces to have them transferred to plants in Alberta.

Under the amended regulations experience in this province is no longer a necessity, although the applicant must still meet all other requirements, as to knowledge and experience.

Pensions Action Urged at Meeting

Calling upon Mayor Harry Ainlay to "do something" about the provision of pensions for employees of the city of Edmonton and to review conditions of needy pensioners in the city, Edward C. Fisher Monday commented on statements made recently by Mayor Ainlay.

PRESIDENT of the Edmonton Old Age Pensioners' Society, Mr. Fisher was speaking at a meeting of the society Monday evening.

Mayor Ainlay was quoted as saying there was "no adequate pension in Canada" and "you have to be broke to get it" when referring to the pension already being paid.

"The story is the same, everywhere you look," said Mr. Fisher. "In Australia, New Zealand, U.S., Great Britain and Canada, crocodile tears are shed about the plight of the aged, but nothing done to relieve the situation."

HE CALLED upon Mayor Ainlay to pension off all the civic employees at the age of 50 with a pension that will provide a decent standard of living; to have the City Council give a bonus of five dollars a month to every pensioner in Edmonton; to investigate the living conditions of needy and aged pensioners.

"If Mayor Ainlay were to have something like these things done he would make a name for Edmonton throughout Canada," he said.

After the address, a program was given. Jack Jones and Mrs. J. B. Robertson led in community singing; a motion picture show was presented by Al Clifford and Edwin Baker, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Before The Magistrate

A culprit responsible for a house-breaking offence in Edmonton last April 15, appeared before Magistrate A. I. Miller, K.C., in city police court Tuesday. He is Kenneth J. Saxe, Mooseomin, Sask.

Evidence submitted by Detective Sergeant James Peterson was to the effect that the accused broke into the home of A. C. Liskear, 10156 120 street, and stole a camera, leather jacket, wrist watch, ring, pair of shoes and $10 in currency.

Save has just finished serving a prison term in Saskatchewan for a similar offence and was forwarded to Edmonton to face the charge here.

He pleaded guilty to the charge Tuesday and was remanded until March 12 for sentence.

Health Officer To Give Address

Dr. G. M. Little, city medical health officer, will be guest speaker at a meeting of residents of North Edmonton in the Anglican Church hall, 127 avenue and 69 street, Wednesday at 8 p.m. The meeting is sponsored by the Community league.

Mine Boss Fined $200

Andrew Hnatyshyn, mine manager, was fined $200 or the default of payment to serve 60 days in Fort Saskatchewan jail, in a judgment given Monday by Magistrate Chris Patterson, Edson, on a charge of failing to provide sufficient ventilation in a mine at Leduc. The charge was laid under section 109 of the Coal Mines Regulations Act.

The charges arose out of an explosion in the Leduc mine on May 12, 1935, in which seven miners were killed. A cave-in caused by the explosion delayed investigation of the accident until recently. The trial of the accused was held at Edson Jan. 21 last, and J. E. Hart, of the attorney-general's department, prosecuted.

Other charges are pending against Hnatyshyn and the mine owner, Howell Evans. They will be heard at Leduc on March 16.

Plan Conservation Of Water Slope

Legislation for approval by the Alberta legislature House of Commons is being prepared to make effective the agreements between the two governments, in regard to the conservation of the eastern water slope of the Rockies. Hon. N. E. Tanner said Tuesday.

NO FURTHER announcement will be made of the agreement until that legislation is introduced into the two houses, the Alberta minister said.

Mr. Tanner, in Edmonton, and Hon. J. A. Glen, federal minister of mines and resources announced recently that an agreement had been reached.

The Alberta minister of lands and mines explained the steps which will now be taken. The agreement will be signed by the two ministers after its preparation by the department of justice. Then it will be brought down in both houses in the form of an act, and presented for the approval of the members of both houses. It will become effective after the legislators have approved it.

Explains Theatre At Club Meeting

Speaking to members of the Cosmopolitan Club at their weekly luncheon in the Corona hotel Tuesday, Elsie Park Gowan, Edmonton playwright and actress outlined the background of "Everyman's Theatre," the all western travelling company who will appear in Edmonton Friday and Saturday.

MRS. GOWAN stated that Sidney Risk, the founder, along with 15 others, gave up important positions to provide westerners with an opportunity to work at the job of being an actor and at the same time, learn how to improve in the art. Players were selected from the Banff School of Fine Arts, and the University of British Columbia summer school.

After trying with the idea of using various warehouses in Vancouver for rehearsals, the group decided upon the cottage owned by Mr. Risk at Gibson's Landing, just outside of Vancouver.

Everyone worked, she declared, and there were no glamour girls. THE TWO PLAYS decided upon for a start were "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde, and "The Last Cave Man" by Elsie Park Gowan. After encountering difficulties in transportation, the company crossed Western Canada to Winnipeg and now is on the road back Thursday. "Everyman's Theatre" plays in Lamont, under the auspices of the Canadian Legion and on Friday and Saturday in the Garneau Auditorium in Edmonton.

Mrs. Gowan was sure, after the hardships the organization had gone through to give the Canadian public a good production that it would be well received in this city.

Richard MacDonald introduced Mrs. Gowan.

Thanks were passed on by John G. Norrington, club president.

Heavy Air Line Traffic Expected

A progressive increase in volume of freight and passenger traffic out of Edmonton to the north appears to be a prospect for early spring, according to R. W. Ryan, Winnipeg, general manager of western lines for Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

MR. RYAN, interviewed at the Macdonald hotel Tuesday, was on a western inspection of his company's facilities and Monday flew from Vancouver to Whitehorse and Yellowknife. He made a second trip to Yellowknife yesterday, returning to Edmonton this morning.

He is accompanied by T. W. Siers, general superintendent of maintenance, Wesley Budd, general traffic manager, and C. N. Saul, superintendent of pilot training, all of Winnipeg.

The company is preparing for greater tonnage loads to be delivered from Edmonton and Peace River to Yellowknife, the general manager said, and rates have been adjusted on a scale of cargo volume which places them on a scale representing more than 50 per cent less than previously.

A THIRD DOUGLAS DC-3 freighter will be placed in service in the next few weeks, said Mr. Ryan.

He explained that these planes were the same as the passenger type excepting that they were "stripped" of passenger facilities such as seating equipment. Each plane was capable of a payload of four tons, he said.

Western traffic was served by eight Lodestars and an additional three Douglas passenger machines, he said.

The party of Canadian Pacific Air Lines officials will fly to Winnipeg today.

Take to Air By the Score

TORONTO, March 5.—(CP)—Canada's young women are taking to the air by the score. At least, that is the exact number comprising the Community Aviation "Y" Club, which gives lectures and flying lessons to 20 Toronto girls ranging in age from 20 to 25.

Affiliated with the Y.W.C.A., the club is sponsored by Community Air Services Limited, with flying courses given at Toronto Island Airport.

"THIS GROUP has gone ahead faster than any other club we have sponsored," said Donald Prentice, RCAP veteran who started the Community Air Service plan two months ago with Bob Wingfield, president and chief instructor, and ex-RCAP officer Walter W. McKeown.

President of the girls' club is Shirley Goldring, only member who is a licensed pilot. She took some of the girls aloft on their initial trip.

For the majority, flying was a new experience that enabled them to see their city from 1,000 to 2,000 feet up. Toronto's tallest landmarks show their impressive grandeur while street cars snail-paced their way around postage stamp buildings.

SEVERAL airmen have volunteered to instruct the girls in aviation, instruments, meteorology, map reading, navigation, radio air and flying conditions.

The course now requires a minimum of eight hours' instruction before a license can be issued. A tiny pair of silver wings is worn by each member as a souvenir of the club.

Girl Guides to Get All-Blue New Togs

LONDON, March 5.—(CP)—Girl guides are to have a change in uniform, the new outfit being a navy skirt with light blue shirt and soft navy beret. There will also be a coat which has yet to be designed.

The changeover will probably not take place for some years, until supplies are available.

This is the first real change in uniform since the Girl Guides were organized although there have been a few minor alterations.

Quits Post For Animals

WINNIPEG, March 5.—(CP)—Dr. Anne Laidlaw looks like an efficient young businesswoman but she uses her efficiency on animals rather than human beings. For she is the only woman veterinarian in Western Canada and one of the few in the entire Dominion.

Dr. Laidlaw left the teaching profession to enter the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph, Ont., and she's never regretted her choice.

"THE NEEDS of sick humans and sick animals are not so different," she says.

Although Dr. E. N. Anderson in whose animal hospital she is employed, usually looks after the larger animals, she does rubber boots and overalls to treat sick animals at the stockyards when he is busy.

"Sometimes the men look rather surprised to see a woman at my job but they soon get used to the idea."

DR. LAIDLAW recently returned from a nine-month post-graduate course in New York where she studied under Dr. C. P. Zupp.

She has a few tips for dog owners. It's a good sign when a sick dog barks, she says. When a dog lies listless, then his condition is serious. She advises owners to be careful if their dogs get rabies, mange or scabies for some animal diseases are contagious to humans.

BUSTLES TO BARE FEET—Smith College students at Northampton, Mass., review the College's history in women's styles. Jolita Coughlin (left) models a 1904 number; Natalie Cull (right) wears the best of 1879. Elice Burch, the bare-footed girl (center), likes the modern "Portuguese" plaid dress best.

FIRST WAC BRIDE in Japan is Vivian L. Boyer, a sergeant from York, Pa., who married S/Sgt. A. R. Moyer, Franklin, W. Va., at Yokohama. She and her new husband will stay in the service and live in Japan.

HERMITING WAS NEVER LIKE THIS—Noah Rondeau, 63, spent 30 years as hermit in the Adirondack Mountains. Then he came to New York City where actress Arleen Whelan slipped him a kiss. Rondeau rolled his eyes and mused: "It was the biggest thrill I ever got."

NEW BEAUTY—The slow, painstaking job of refurbishing the exterior of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City, is at last nearing completion. The project was started in Sept. 1945. Now the exterior scaffolding has been removed and only a little work remains to be done.

OLD SAILOR—Peter Peterson, 60, Manistee, Mich., still lets the breezes of Lake Michigan blow through his life. Retired after 40 years of fishing on the lake, he now makes model boats and turns them loose. Viking I, predecessor to Viking II (above), took a week to cross from Manistee to Keweenaw, Wis., on the opposite shore.

Secrecy Refused In Tax Evasions

By H. R. Hardy
OTTAWA.—Dealing with a suggestion made on behalf of some individuals, who have been called to appear in courts here on charges under the Income Tax Act, that such hearings be held in camera, officials of the department of national revenue said breaches of the act were considered criminal acts and were dealt with in open court in the same manner as other criminal cases.

While section 81 of the Income Tax Act dealing with secrecy of information says that tax branch employees must keep any information they have in strictest confidence, officials argue that where a breach of the act results in disclosure of information in open court the onus for such disclosure rests with the person who has committed the breach.

They point out that hearings before the exchequer courts, against those involving appeals against assessments are held in camera and the individual taxpayer is protected.

No action has been or will be taken by the department to seek legislation that would permit income tax violation cases to be held in camera, officials added.

Shot Kills Bride As Husband Reads

CINCINNATI, (AP)—An 18-year-old bride of three weeks was wounded fatally by a shotgun blast early Monday in the bedroom of her home while her 16-year-old husband sat nearby reading a comic book. Mrs. Sheldyene Hess died in hospital.

Police said they believe the husband, told them he and his wife went to their bedroom at her parent's home shortly after midnight. Hess began reading a comic book and his wife told him it was time to go to bed.

Hess said he looked up a minute later and his wife was lying on the bed with a shotgun pressed against her stomach. A moment later the gun discharged. Hess gave no reason for her action.

Urges Plebiscite B.C. Liquor Laws

VICTORIA, (CP)—Mrs. Nancy Hodges (Coalition, Victoria) called on the British Columbia legislature Monday to hold a plebiscite on the controversial liquor problem.

About 30 members of the 48-member house have presented their views on the liquor question.

Earlier suggestions included establishment of a royal commission to study all phases of the liquor problem; establishment of cocktail lounges in Vancouver and Victoria for a trial period; increased restrictions on beer parlors and introduction of an educational program in schools and churches designed to show the "evils" of excessive drinking.

She said she was appalled at B.C.'s soaring drink bill, the frightening increase in serious crime by youthful offenders, in broken homes and broken lives.

Mrs. Hodges advocated that beer parlors be abolished because it

Truman Advocates Let Draft Law Die

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman Monday recommended that congress let the United States draft law expire March 31.

Truman advised that the war and navy departments will request re-enactment of a selective service act later if they are unable to keep the army at a strength of 1,070,000 men and the navy at its authorized strength of 571,000 through voluntary enlistments.

The White House decision is a short-term one so far as general future military manpower policy is concerned. President Truman has said he wants some form of universal training law eventually.

Raps Soviet Try To Exclude Canada

By H. R. Hardy
OTTAWA.—The attempt of the Soviet Union to exclude Canada from active participation in the settlement of the European problem on the grounds that she was not "directly interested," while at the same time including such countries as Albania and Luxembourg as interested parties embodied a "curious and inadmissible" definition of the countries which are directly interested, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent told the commons Monday night.

"I cannot imagine," he said, "that the Soviet authorities really expect us to take seriously a distinction which would bring about that consequence seriously."

Mr. St. Laurent said that the Soviet representative in London who presented these views was none other than Feodor Gousev who had been Soviet minister in Canada in 1942 and 1943. Mr. Gousev, he added, could be no misapprehension as to the contribution which Canada had made to the defeat of Germany, nor could he think that a country which had mobilized a million men, more than half of whom had served in combat zones, had made a contribution to the defeat of Germany of less consequence than the war effort of Albania and Luxembourg. "Nor is it possible," said Mr. St. Laurent, "that the Soviet government is under any misapprehension as to who will bear the burden if German aggression is renewed."

"It is to countries such as ours that the U.S.S.R. would again look for the industrial production that would have to be mobilized and used."

Vichy Ex-Minister Given Five Years

PARIS, (Reuters)—Paul Baudouin, former cabinet minister in the wartime Vichy government of France, Monday was sentenced by the high court of justice at Versailles to five years penal servitude, with national indignity for life and confiscation of all his property.

Baudouin was tried on collaboration charges.

Wonder if Bevin Will End Career

By Charles Nichols
LONDON.—As Foreign Minister Bevin journeyed Tuesday on what perhaps a major assignment of his career, many Britons wondered seriously whether it would be his last.

When he returns from his pacifying mission to Dunkerque and his negotiations in Moscow, the foreign minister hopes he will have completed two jobs on which his heart is set: a mutual-aid treaty with France; revision and extension—perhaps for a 50-year term—of the Anglo-Russian accord.

If the Big Four ministers, meeting in the Russian foreign office next week, successfully deal with the item on the agenda providing for a four-way pact binding all of them, the British foreign secretary will feel that the foundations of peace in Europe have been put on a solid basis for the first time since the war's end.

But as he left on these historic missions, there was more speculation than ever before as to whether he would continue as head of the foreign department on his return. His health has not been good and that—and that alone—would be the reason for relinquishing his post if he decides to do so.

Native Chieftains Get Royal Gifts

EAST LONDON, South Africa, (Reuters)—His Majesty the King took the salute Tuesday as 2,900 former servicemen and women from many parts of South Africa marched past in a parade staged by the British Empire Service League.

The King later opened the league's annual conference and joined the rest of the royal family on a motor trip to King Williams-town, where 20,000 natives greeted them.

The royal family distributed gifts among the native chiefs, headed by Paramount Chief Velle of the Kona nation. The gifts included signed photographs of the King and Queen and silver medallions on crimson ribbons.
